Commercial Manager, BaseballSoftballUK

BaseballSoftballUK is looking to recruit a new full time permanent member of staff to lead on our commercial work.

Baseball and softball in the UK have come a long way in recent years, nearly trebling the number of regular players to 24,000 today. With both sports returning to the Olympic Programme in 2020, Major League Baseball running engaging events in this country and investment into the sports from Sport England, this is an exciting time for the sports.

The role would be well suited to someone who loves relationship building and developing new commercial concepts. There's no need for you to have an interest in our sports, but a passion for what we're doing is essential.

Reporting directly to the CEO, you will need to be organised and creative. You'll be asked to oversee existing commercial relationships, while building new ones. You'll need to be prepared to create and deliver on a commercial strategy.

BaseballSoftballUK has a handful of important corporate clients, some as people for whom we run corporate softball through our Hit the Pitch programme, some suppliers and some stakeholders. We hope that this role will enable us to develop new relationships with advertisers, sponsors and national funding partners. The new Commercial Manager will also help us create new concepts for commercial events and activities.

BaseballSoftballUK is a fun organisation to work for with a small team of committed and passionate sports developers. We are looking for someone who will bring a corporate professionalism and to the team. We turn over just shy of £1mil a year, 70% of which is from government and lottery funding. The work of this new person will be directed to reduce this percentage by increasing revenues.

Skills

The role combines client servicing with new business and commercial activity aspects of work. We are after someone who has experience managing client relationships, who is personable, friendly and organised. The role suits someone looking to take on a new challenge. The ideal candidate will have experience with client management, be able to professionally manage concurrent relationships, have experience of pitching for new business and come with creative ideas. Good presentation skills and an ability to make a professional pitch (including collateral) are desired skills.
